Preface.

This catalogue, issued in the fall of 1911, is the eighth edition. It is published after an interval of six years and contains nearly 4,000 more names than the last previous edition published in 1905. Like the 1905 edition this work has been hurried both by the editor and the printer. The work was begun by the editor on January 1, 1911. Changes of addresses are so frequent that a catalogue has to be handled rapidly in order for it to be up to date. Previous to this edition the editors of all our fraternity catalogues have been new ones, and if it is any advantage to have the same editor on two successive editions, the fraternity has secured the benefit of such an editor's experience on this catalogue.

Owing to a demand for a smaller book, much smaller type has been used than heretofore, the chapter rolls have been set two columns, and the indexes three columns to the page. An innovation in the main portion of the book has been the numbering of the columns and not the pages—this should facilitate the finding of the names.

Two editions have been published, one a library edition on heavy paper with stiff binding and the other, known as the "satchel edition," on bible paper with small margins and bound in a flexible cover. There has been a considerable demand for the latter edition.

The editor has attempted to live up to the instructions given him, which were to "cut everything to a minimum" and while these instructions may not have been literally followed, in some cases facts may have been left in which might have been cut out and there probably are a number of cases where important items may have been cut out which should better have been left in. It is hard to do justice in every case and keep the book to the desired size. It was found desirable to leave in the war records—perhaps in the future editions many of these records will be eliminated.

Where a person is a member of more than one chapter, instead of using the terms "Transferred to" and "Initiated at" which were used in the last catalogue, use is made of the shorter statement "Also" which is to show as a cross-reference that the name has been entered twice or more. Transfers are now made at the rate of nearly forty a year. In this catalogue 622 names are entered more than once. Some time in the near future it will probably be necessary to enter a name only once, either on the roll of the chapter where the person was initiated, or he may be given the opportunity to choose the roll he prefers.

In order to make the indexes more intelligible the abbreviations of the chapter designations with a few exceptions, have been increased to four letters, generally the first four letters of the name. This it is hoped will avoid the criticisms which were evoked when the 1905 edition appeared where by using three letters some of them were somewhat uncertain.

Next to the troubles of the editor, caused by reporting men dead who are still alive, is the hunt for those afflicted with "wanderlust"—almost all of the chapters have one or more of these. Addresses known to be incorrect have been noted by the use of a dagger. In spite of a tremendous lot of work this notation appears too frequently. If more time had been taken to hunt for the "lost" members, the catalogue would have suffered on account of the many changes of addresses of those now reported correctly.

Although a number of requests were made to have it done, and some of the chapters in printing their lists do print the names alphabetically, it was decided to follow the system of previous editions and print the lists in the order of initiation. It is considered to be most satisfactory for a man to find next to him on the rolls the men who were his associates when he was a member of the active chapter.

The sketch of the fraternity which has proved to be of interest to so many and which appeared in the 1905 edition, has been reprinted with a few changes and corrections of membership and chapter houses bringing it to date.

The editor takes this opportunity to thank President William A. Hamilton, General Secretary Francis W. Shepardson and General Treasurer James L. Gavin for many helpful suggestions and plans to finance the book. He also thanks Messrs. William Raimond Baird, Francis H. Sisson and Willis O. Robb for their kind assistance in helping to solve the problems that have arisen from time to time. He also thanks a host of others, a list too long to enumerate, for their kind assistance in locating lost members, furnishing lists and reading proof—without which help it would have been absolutely impossible to publish the lists as accurately as they now appear.

A Sketch of the Fraternity.

The fraternity was founded at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, in 1839. John Reily Knox, '39, was the founder. Closely associated with him was Samuel Taylor Marshall, '40, and afterwards there were united with these David Linton, '39, and James George Smith, '40. These four founded the fraternity early in July, 1839. On August 8, they added to their number Henry Hardin, '40, John Holt Duncan, '40, Michael Clarkson Ryan, '40, and Thomas Boston Gordon, '41.

At that time there was a chapter of Alpha Delta Phi at Miami. It was four years old and was prosperous and successful. The fraternity system was then in its infancy. Kappa Alpha was at Union and Williams. Sigma Phi was at Union, Williams, Hamilton, and New York University. Psi Upsilon was at Union, New York University and Brown. Delta Phi was at Union and Brown and Alpha Delta Phi was not only at Hamilton, New York University and Brown, but was at Columbia, Yale, Amherst, Miami and Harvard, while it had a chapter at the Cincinnati Law School. The Mystical Seven had originated at Wesleyan and a year or so later entered the South.

The fraternity was intended to become a widespread organization of college men and its founder lived to see the fulfillment of this intention in the most satisfying manner.

The chapter roll in the order of establishment of the chapters and with the number of members in each chapter as it appears in this catalogue is as follows: The date preceding the name is the date of the chapter's foundation. A date in parenthesis following a name indicates that the chapter ceased to be active at that time.

*These three chapters are chapters of the Mystical Seven which never had an active existence as undergraduate chapters in Beta Theta Pi.

The number of active chapters is 73 and the inactive 20. While the membership by the chapter rolls is 18,286, there are 622 names that appear more than once and the membership up to June 30, 1911, was 17, 664.

From a perusal of the list of chapters it will be noticed that no chapter established since 1879 has had its charter revoked and the last chapter which became inactive was in 1901—ten years ago.

Down to 1884 the chapters were known in the fraternity by their Greek names. The roll had so increased by that time that few members of the fraternity were sufficiently well acquainted with all of these names to be able promptly to identify by them the locations of the several chapters. Since then the Greek names have been relegated to a second place, and the chapters are now known by the names of the institutions at which they are located.

Some peculiarities of the roll may be referred to. Beta Nu was originally at the Cincinnati Law School where Alpha Delta Phi then had a chapter. It was called the Beta and died in 1843. In 1890 it was re-established at the University of Cincinnati and occupied the quarters of the old chapter for many years.

The Washington and Jefferson chapter as now constituted is formed by the union of the Gamma chapter established at Jefferson College, Canonsburg, Pa., in 1842, and the Nu chapter established at Washington College in 1855. The colleges were united in 1867, and the chapter was called Gamma Nu for a time, but since 1874 has been called Gamma only.

Washington and Lee University at Lexington, Va. was called Washington College before the war. It must not be confused with Washington University at St. Louis, Mo., where the Alpha Iota chapter is located, nor with Washington State University at Seattle, Wash. Trinity University, Texas, should not be mistaken for Trinity College, Connecticut, nor Columbia University in New York City, where the Alpha Alpha chapter is located, for Columbian University at Washington, D. C.; nor Union University, in Schenectady, N. Y., where the Nu chapter is located, for Union University, Tennessee.

Central University is formed from the union of Centre College, located at Danville, Ky., and Central University at Richmond, Ky.

Princeton was for many years called the College of New Jersey, De Pauw was called Indiana Asbury; the Butler College was called Butler University; the University of Maine was called Maine State College; and Denison University, Granville College. The University of Syracuse, Syracuse, N. Y., is the successor of Genesee College at Lima, N. Y. Colgate University was formerly called Madison University, and is sometimes confused with the University of Wisconsin, which, being situated at Madison, Wis., is locally denominated the University at Madison.

Also and because Colgate is at Hamilton, N. Y., it is sometimes taken for Hamilton College, which is not far away at Clinton, N. Y. The present University of Chicago is the successor of an older institution of the same name and which is now defunct. These few explanations are made because of mistakes continually traceable to the confusion referred to. It might be added that Transylvania University was subsequently merged into the University of Kentucky, and that Western Reserve has been moved from Hudson, Ohio, to Cleveland, Ohio, and the U. S. Naval Academy from Newport, R. I., to Annapolis, Maryland.

The present Sigma was for a time called Beta Epsilon; Upsilon was called Alpha Upsilon, Beta was called Beta Kappa and Beta Kappa, Kappa. Rho was called Alpha Rho, and Xi, Alpha Xi. There have been other changes, but none of serious import.

Of the chapters which are at present inactive those at Princeton, the U. S. Naval Academy, Monmouth and Howard were killed by anti-fraternity laws. The southern chapters were killed by the war, and Oglethorpe and South Carolina were not revived. The fraternity withdrew the charters of the chapters at Washington and Lee, V. M. I., Richmond, Trinity, Randolph-Macon, Virginia State, Butler, and Cumberland. This was with the consent of the members and under the impression that the institutions referred to were hardly up to our standard.

Transylvania and Illinois died from lack of proper support and material. The charter of the Harvard chapter was withdrawn on account of the indifferent attitude of Harvard students to fraternity ties and the Mississippi chapter ceased to exist at a time of depression in the affairs of the university.

William and Mary College chapter was established at a time when this venerable institution was thought to have taken on a new lease of life. This opinion was not borne out by subsequent events.

A number of the chapters have suspended operations from time to time, from different causes well known to their members and of no particular interest to others.

Twice during the lifetime of the fraternity a union has been effected with other fraternities, with Alpha Sigma Chi in 1879 and the Mystical Seven in 1889. In each case the alumni of these organizations have been received into full membership. From Alpha Sigma Chi we received the chapters at Rutgers, Cornell, Stevens, St. Lawrence, and Maine, and from the Mystical Seven came the chapters at Wesleyan, Davidson and North Carolina; the last two revived Beta chapters then dormant, while at the University of Virginia active chapters of both fraternities were consolidated. There were Mystical chapters at Syracuse, Mississippi and Cumberland which in 1889 the Beta chapters served to revive.

Many of the other chapters have had an origin in some other organization as a basis. We are proud to say, however, that the fraternity has never sought to win a chapter of another fraternity from its allegiance and has steadily refused overtures from recreant chapters of other orders. When we have received other fraternity chapters it has either been as local societies or with the full consent of all persons concerned. The last surviving chapters of Alpha Kappa Phi, Phi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Delta Pi and Zeta Phi formed the basis of our present chapters at Mississippi, Brown, Dartmouth and Missouri respectively, and many of the chapters have been organized as local societies for some time before or while seeking charters from the fraternity.

It has become increasingly difficult to secure a charter from the fraternity. Our law requires as a preliminary that the petitioners shall obtain the consent of two out of the three nearest chapters, the recommendation of the Board of Trustees, and that three-fourths of all the existing chapters shall cast an affirmative vote before a charter can be granted. In recent years petitions have been rejected by every convention and from most of the prominent colleges where the fraternity is not represented.

The following chapters live in owned houses, the titles generally being held by organizations of their alumni: Amherst, Beloit, Bethany, Bowdoin, Brown, California, Chicago, Colgate, Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, Denison, DePauw, Dickinson, Hanover, Knox, Lehigh, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, North Carolina, Ohio State, Ohio Wesleyan, Pennsylvania, Pennsylvania State, Purdue, Rutgers, St. Lawrence, Stanford, Syracuse, Texas, Tulane, Union, Vanderbilt, Wabash, Washington State, Wesleyan, Western Reserve, Wisconsin, Wittenberg and Yale (42).

The following live in rented houses: Case, Central, Cincinnati, Colorado, Colorado Mines, Denver, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Iowa State, Iowa Wesleyan, Johns Hopkins, Kansas, Kenyon, Miami, Nebraska, Northwestern, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Stevens, Toronto, Virginia, Washington-Jefferson, Westminster, West Virginia and Wooster (27).

For more than four years the alumni of New York City have maintained a club house. The club at present has a membership of more than 600. It has recently moved into better quarters and is now located at One Gramercy Park where it has accommodations for more than twenty members, and the house is a headquarters for all Beta residents and members of the fraternity who may be in New York temporarily.

Chapter-house life is a development of fraternity existence which has come to stay. By going into houses it has been found that the fraternal spirit has been promoted, business habits have been formed, sky-larking and a certain tendency to rowdyism frequently present in college communities eradicated, and much pleasure and profit derived therefrom.

The fraternity has more of its chapters in houses than any other fraternity, and its success in this respect is the envy of its rivals.

The great body of the fraternity is not in college. Our law provides that alumni chapters may be formed by any ten members living in one locality. There has been of late years a noticeable increase in the number of alumni associations which are now to be found in more than one hundred localities. Many more such associations doubtless will be formed.

For some years an incorporated club of alumni maintained a summer resort at "Wooglin," on Lake Chautauqua, where it owned a club-house and a large plot of ground. The enterprise, however, did not pay and was abandoned in 1894.

The government of the fraternity is vested in a board of six trustees, of whom three are official; viz., the President, Secretary and Treasurer, and three are non-official. Each serves for three years and one official and one non-official member retires each year. This system works admirably and the government of the fraternity is efficient and thorough.

The income of the fraternity is derived from a tax levied upon the chapters in proportion to their active undergraduate membership. This tax is cheerfully and promptly paid, which is a gratifying evidence of loyalty.

The convention of the delegates from the undergraduate chapters meets each year in mid-summer. Out of the annual tax referred to above each chapter which has paid its quota is entitled to receive the transportation expenses of one delegate. This system insures a large and proper representation of the undergraduates. Each chapter is entitled to send two other delegates at its or their own expense.

About as many alumni as undergraduates commonly attend a convention. The attendance is not, however, as large as is desirable. The alumni usually serve upon the committees and do the bulk of the hard work, and delight to watch the young men enjoy themselves.

For convenience of administration the chapters of the fraternity have been arranged geographically into fourteen districts. Each district has as its executive head an assistant to the General Secretary appointed by him and officially known as the "Chief Assistant Secretary for the District," but commonly called the "Chief." In almost all of the districts the chapters hold reunions in the winter and develop a spirit of local loyalty.

The official organ of the fraternity is its journal called the BETA THETA PI. It is now published in Geneva, N. Y., but is edited in New York City. It appears eight times a year. Six of the numbers are regular magazine numbers, containing articles of general fraternity interest, editorials, chapter letters, personals and news of other fraternities. The other two numbers are special numbers, and are not sent to persons who are not members of the fraternity. The first special number contains the minutes of the convention, and the second special number the annual reports of the chapters, detailing their membership in full and setting forth their condition.

The other publications of the fraternity are its Constitution and Laws, revision of 1897, which may be obtained from the General Secretary. The song-book, which may be obtained from the song-book agent. The Hand Book of Beta Theta Pi published in 1907 by William Raimond Baird, authorized by the Convention of 1906 and published under the direction of the Board of Trustees. And its catalogue, which may be obtained from the editor.

The badge of the fraternity is well known—its colors are pink and blue. Its flower is the rose.

The membership of the fraternity prior to the war was each year as follows. '39, 8; '40, 25; '41, 48; '42, 86; '43, 122; '44, 150; '45, 197; '46, 248; '47, 310;

'48, 348; '49, 377; '50, 408; '51, 433; '52, 489; '53, 565; '54, 649; '55, 754; '56, 863; '57, 979; '58, 1084; '59, 1188; '60, 1280; '61, 1362.

Since then it has grown not only by the expansion of the fraternity, but by the inclusion of the members of the Mystical Seven and of the alumni of the local societies at Dartmouth, Colgate, Missouri, and one or two other places.

We might add that the membership in 1865 was 1580; in 1870, 2067; in 1875, 2769; in 1880, 3916; in 1883, 4874; in 1890, 6995; in 1898, 10577; in 1905, 13909, and at present as stated on a previous page, 17664. The initiates now number about six hundred and fifty per annum.
